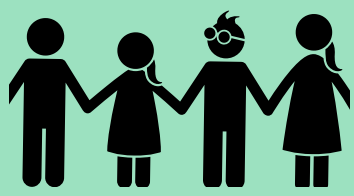
HELPING KIDS HEAL AND GROW

Stamford Health's Pediatric Department, located in Stamford, CT, provides specialized medical care for infants, children, and teens. As part of Stamford Health's larger hospital system, the pediatric team includes doctors, nurses, therapists, and support staff who work together to treat everything from common illnesses to complex conditions. If you care about kids and want to be part of a healing team, this is a great place to start.



SUPPORTIVE WORK, MEANINGFUL BENEFITS

Employees enjoy strong healthcare coverage, paid time off, retirement plans, tuition reimbursement, and access to wellness programs. The hospital promotes a positive, inclusive environment and values those who bring empathy, energy, and attention to detail—especially when working with children and families.

LEARN WHILE YOU MAKE A DIFFERENCE

Whether you're a volunteer, intern, or entry-level staff member, the pediatric department offers a learning-rich environment. You might start in administrative support, patient care assistance, or hospitality roles, and grow into medical, therapeutic, or leadership paths. Stamford Health offers on-the-job training and educational partnerships to help young professionals move forward.

BRIGHTENING YOUNG LIVES EVERY DAY

In pediatrics, every smile matters. From comforting a scared toddler to supporting a worried parent, your presence can have a lasting impact. It's a place where kindness, teamwork, and compassion are part of the job—and where every day brings a chance to make childhood a little brighter.
